Objectives	As students transition into the next phase of offline, or physical classes, they have to gear up for returning to a way of life theyhave lost touch with, for 1.5 years. Further, the last few months have brought several challenges to many. In order to make this transition seamless, the C2C cell of VESCOP, came up with this Aatmavikas session by VESLARC called "Happy Transitions!".
Methodology	The interactive module explored the emotions being perceived (hope along with anxiety), listed out certain specific challenges (like altered timetables) with their suggested solutions, helped students list out their goals and strength areas for motivation, offered certain study-tips, and concluded with simple tips for them to be reassured and empowered.
Outcomes	The session enlightened the students in alignment with our programme outcomes mentioned below: Problem Analysis – Utilize the principles of scientific enquiry, thinking analytically, clearly and critically, while solving problems and making decisions during daily practice. Find, analyze, evaluate and apply information systematically and shall make defensible decisions. Planning Abilities: Demonstrate effective planning abilities including time management, resource management, delegation skills and organizational skills. Develop and implement plans and organize work to meet deadlines. COMMUNICATION SKILLS

Name of the Activity: Importance of Self Confidence and Self Esteem in Communication skills

Class: F.Y.B.Pharm (SEM I)

Number of students attending the activity: 89

Day, Date, Year: Thursday, 1st February 2021

Activity Objective:

The role of Self Confidence and Self Esteem is vital in communication. The way we feel and treat ourselves makes a big impact on how we communicate. Self-esteem is the self-image which we carry of ourselves. Low self-esteem leads to low morale and hence the person is not able to communicate his thoughts and feelings to others. It's very important that a person carries high self-esteem to communicate better. A confident person is able to communicate better and is in command of his life. Such a person does not allow outside negativity to ruin his life. The self-confidence which a person carries is displayed in his personality, behaviour and the communication which he has with others. He is very optimistic and in charge of his life.

The activity conducted with below mentioned description was aimed to inculcate the importance of Self Confidence and Self Esteem in Communication.

Activity details:

- As a part of this activity, students were asked to stand in front of a camera and record a video of themselves.
- Students were supposed to introduce themselves in a manner which depicts their confidence while talking in front of the camera.
- Students were asked to talk for a few minutes about an unforgettable memory from their life (either good memory or bad memory).
- Students were asked to submit their video recordings which were further analysed by the teacher.
- Activity was conducted at the start of the course and communication skills of students were noted down from the video.
- Communication skills were further monitored throughout the semester and improvement was measured by the teacher with reference to the first video recording sent by students.

He emphasized on the mind-control techniques using Yoga, which can be achieved by thoroughly practicing this activity.

The next part of this session involved physical exercises which began with warm-up activities followed by different types of Yogasanas. The four volunteers Kshitja, Shivangi, Pradnya and Sachin under the guidance of Mrs. Harsha Kathpalia and Mrs. Mithali Rathod demonstrated different types of asanas on stage, as per AYUSH Yoga protocol which were followed by the entire participant crowd. Principal madam helped in correcting some errors in the asana position and demonstrated simple techniques to perform asanas.
